Enter In Goodyear Nat'l Competition

The Hancock County Soil (and water) Conservation district has entered the 17th annual Goodyear competition to select the nation's top 52 conservation districts, according to Otho Rester, Rt. 3, Picayune, Miss., district chairman.

Key agricultural leaders will serve as judges and will select the state winner. Soil conservation efforts from May 1, 1963 through December 31, 1963, will be considered.

The 104 men selected will be guests at Goodyear Farms, a 14,000-acre general farm operation near Phoenix.

LIVING COST IN MAY WAS UNCHANGED

WASHINGTON - The cost of living was unchanged in May for the second straight month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner for the bureau, said the consumer price index remained at 106.2.

The 1957-59 price level is 100 in the index.

Myers noted at a news conference that the price level is only one per cent above a year ago.

"We can see how lucky we are when we see what has happened in other major countries, mostly Europe," Myers said.

He said the current stability "is more or less in line with seasonal trends for this time of year."

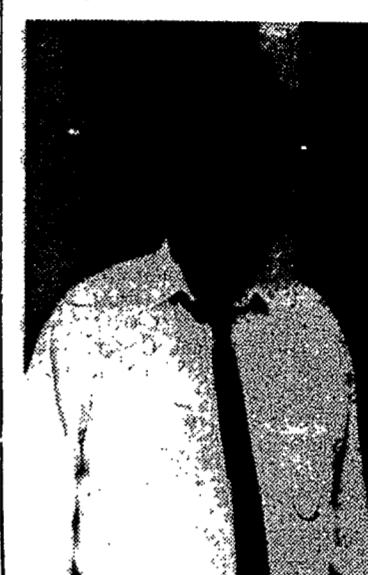

Myers predicted that the period of price stability is about over.

He said he anticipated an increase in living costs of at least one-tenth of one per cent for the month of June, when prices are expected to rise for food, fruits, sugar, used cars and services, mostly medical.

The four clubs, Biloxi, Gulfport, Pass Christian and Bay-Waveland, act as host to the event on a rotating basis.

Pass Christian will entertain the other club this year, Biloxi will be host in 1964, Gulfport in 1965 and Bay-Waveland in 1966.

This year's program will begin on Saturday and will continue through Sunday, July 7.

Many Coast residents don't realize it, but Pass Christian is really the birthplace of yachting in the South.

Way back in 1849 a small group of yachtsmen gathered together on the beach at Pass Christian and organized for the purpose of sailing races up and down the Mississippi Gulf Coast from Biloxi to Bay St. Louis.

EXPERIMENT SHOWS SIMPLE MIXTURES GOOD DAIRY FEED

STATE COLLEGE: A simple dairy feed mixture proved to be as good as a complex one in recent tests at the Mississippi Experiment Station.

The simple mixture was composed of ground ear corn, ground shelled corn, soybean meal, salt and deflourinated rock phosphate. The complex mixture contained all these ingredients plus cotton seed meal, crimped oats, wheat bran, wheat middlings, distilled dried corn, corn gluten feed, molasses, limestone, trace minerals and a vitamin mix.

Thirty-six cows of four breeds were used in the study, a reversal type test of three 28-day periods. The cows were on an adequate forage feeding program.

Dr. C. B. Browning found no difference in milk production between the rations. The grain mixes were formulated to contain the same quantities of crude protein and digestible energy. Therefore, if one of the grain mixes had been superior to the other, it would have been the result of more efficient utilization, the presence of a variety of ingredients, some nutrient present in one mix and not the other, or a combination of some or all of these factors.

"It would appear" Dr. Browning said, "from the results of this study and those of other published research that a dairyman should base his choice of a high quality grain mix on the economics involved. Local prices of ingredients, storage facilities, mixing and grinding and convenience should be considered in making a decision."

Dr. Browning's complete report is available on request from the Experiment Station at State College, Mississippi. Dr. Browning says when high levels of grain are fed, palatability may be a problem and a large variety of ingredients may be helpful. However, as long as the ingredients are palatable, simple mixtures are just as nutritious as complex mixtures.

CHINESE REDS CRITICIZE STENNIS CUBA INTERVENTION

WASHINGTON: Senator John Stennis has been criticized as "a notorious advocate of U. S. intervention in Cuba" by a Red Chinese radio commentator.

In an English-language broadcast heard in Peking, China, and transmitted to Washington, the Red Chinese Communist announced that a solution to the Cuban crisis be given "highest possible priority."

Stennis, Chairman of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee, recently issued a preliminary report on the Subcommittee's exhaustive investigation into the Soviet military buildup in Cuba last Fall.

The Red Chinese commentator said, "The Subcommittee, headed by the notorious advocate of intervention in Cuba, Senator John Stennis, heard not only Central Intelligence officials, but question many Cuban counter-revolutionaries."

The Stennis investigation and report of its hearings demanded that the United States "must be prepared to take appropriate and positive action" to eliminate "further Communist encroachment in Latin America."

In addition, and by way of final recommendation, the Stennis Committee said "The entire Cuban problem, both military and political, should be accorded the highest possible priority by government officials."

Americans across the length and breadth of the United States have praised the Stennis report as "thorough, tough and timely."

RETURN FROM CONFERENCE

Mrs. Marcia Hughes, Home Demonstration Agent and 4-Hers Dale Russell, Nancy Swords, Lowell Moran and Norman Ferguson have returned from Miss. State College where they attended a junior leadership conference.

As you pack your bags and complete your vacation plans, be sure you do several things for convenience and safety before you leave home.

Be sure you arrange for the mail to be picked up and forwarded.

Stop regular milk and newspaper deliveries. Nothing tells the passer-by that you are away from home more than an accumulation in the yard of papers and milk cartons on the porch.

Tell a neighbor where you can be located in case of emergency. If you live in a town, you might tell your local police that you will be away and ask them to check on the house every now and then.

Arrange for care of pets at your neighbor's or the veterinarian's.

Store lawn tools and furniture and toys that may be around the yard. This will protect them from the weather and from possible

STEAM IRON CARE

It is best to use distilled water (which you can get at the drug store) or filtered water in your steam iron to prevent clogging. You can obtain filtered water by use of a filter. Filters are available at some auto supply stores and mail order houses.

If your iron spits or fails to steam, you may be able to remedy the situation by:

1. Filling the iron with filtered water and vinegar, about half and half.

2. Setting on steaming position and heating.

3. Holding the iron over the sink or old towel, or newspaper and letting it steam until the holes are clear. There may be a sudden spurt of clogging material when this happens.

After the holes are open and the water has steamed out, you may want to steam some water through to remove the trace of vinegar.

Follow the manufacturer's instructions for removing scratches from the sale plate as well as doing other cleaning jobs. You can remove starch by heating the iron slightly and rubbing with a damp cloth that has been dipped in baking soda. If desired, after this treatment, run the warm iron over wax paper to make it smooth.

If you've ever taken a child to the seashore, you know what that first glimpse of the ocean can mean to a youngster . . . the lure of fascination . . . the foreboding of fear. Which will win the struggle? But what a delight when hesitation ends and Jeannie finds her happy beachhead down where the waves wane, and the tide seeks its rest.

And if you've ever taken a child to Sunday School, you know what that first glimpse of strange surroundings can mean.

But, even if there are misgivings that first Sunday, Jeannie soon finds her happy beachhead. And one day she'll plunge bravely and confidently into deeper reaches of the vast spiritual ocean that surrounds life.

Anything as vital as religious education deserves an early and earnest beginning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

SWIMMING POOL ACCIDENTS PROVE GREAT PROBLEM

In summertime Mississippians take to the water. Home swimming pools are fast becoming as common in backyards as on movie stars' and millionaires' estates, community pools and swim clubs number country clubs. Swimming is one of the healthiest sports and should be kept that way, says Dr. A. L. Gray of the Mississippi State Board of Health.

We all know of the risk of drowning, but not everyone thinks of the danger of cuts, scrapes, concussions, fractures or electric shock. Swimming pool accidents have become a greater problem than pool sanitation and infection, according to Dr. Gray.

Overcrowding is a common cause of accidents. So is running on the hard surface around the edge of the pool, where a slip and fall can have nasty results. Jumping or diving into shallow water or crowded spots can produce broken bones and cracked skulls. Placing pools within range of wires on power lines has led to tragic results. Extreme caution should be exercised with lighting equipment and electric appliances used in and about the pool.

In public pools, a qualified lifeguard should be on duty at all times the pool is open, and there should be one lifeguard for every 25 people in the pool area. Before installing a home pool, Dr. Gray urges homeowners to consult with the local municipal and health authorities regarding health and safety regulations. These should include provision for proper fencing, sanitation, drainage, structural stability, proper distance from property and power lines and other precautions.

Fences and gates should be adequate to prevent youngsters from entering when the pool is unattended. Equipment for assistance to swimmers in distress should be kept at poolside. Reputable swimming pool construction companies know the regulations, as well as the specifications for filtering systems and disinfectant chemicals.

UNIQUE ORGANIZATION HELPS NEGROES FINANCE HOMES

Negroes and members of other minority groups who have difficulty negotiating home loans can turn to a nation-wide organization established to help in such cases. According to Elwyn V. Hopkins, representative of the organization in the Southeastern United States, Hopkins is Executive Secretary in eight southern states for the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program authorized by the Congress in the Housing Act of 1954.

The Program assists in making mortgage money available to members of minority groups who can obtain loans on terms as favorable as are generally available to others in that area.

On a nation-wide basis, since its inception, the program has placed over 52,000 mortgage loans for a total of over $54 million dollars. Of this total 20 per cent of the loans have been for minority home buyers.

The Program is a unique partnership between private industry and the Federal Government. General supervision and operating policies are the responsibility of an 18-man National Committee whose Chairman is Robert C. Weaver, Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Washington, D. C.

President of the Committee is Thomas P. Coogan, president of Housing Securities, Inc., New York City, New York. Coogan is a former assistant to the Secretary of Defense (1951-53) and is a past president of the National Association of Home Builders.

The other 16 members of the Committee are real estate brokers, home builders, and representatives of leading private lending institutions.

Chairman of the Southern Regional Committee is Jack Adair, President of Adair Realty and Loan Company in Atlanta, Ga., and Vice Chairman is Robert D. Estes, Executive Vice President of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Gainesville, Georgia.

The system works like this: An applicant goes to the regional VHMC office in Atlanta, Georgia and provides a certification that he has been unable to obtain an FHA-insured or VA-guaranteed loan from at least two local mortgage lenders. The Regional VHMC Executive Secretary then contacts lending institutions participating in the Program for the applicant.

Mortgage money is made available through banks, insurance companies, savings and loan institutions and other home mortgage money available to members of minority groups who can obtain loans on terms as favorable as are generally available to others in that area.

A typical case is that of an applicant who decided to buy a home and was offered a conventional loan at 7 1/2% interest from a mortgage company in his hometown requiring a $1,500 down payment. The applicant did not have sufficient funds for the down payment and was unwilling to pay 7 1/2% interest, so he contacted Hopkins at VHMC.

When the application was submitted, the VHMC located one of its participating lenders willing to consider the loan and shortly after submission the loan went through at the current FHA rate (6 1/4% including mortgage insurance) with the minimum down payment and for the maximum number of years.

VHMC was instrumental in making it possible for the applicant to have a decent safe and sanitary home for his family.

Applicants can contact: Elwyn V. Hopkins, Executive Secretary, Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program, Room 645 Peachtree Seventh, Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Walter Rausch and daughter, Ripple and Dottie, and Miss Naomi Rausch of Abita Springs left Wednesday for a three weeks visit in Washington and New York. They will be joined in Washington by Mr. Rausch.

FOREST INSECTS

This year, after prolonged months of dry weather and following a severely cold winter, trees are less healthy, less vigorous and less able to resist insect attacks.

Open wounds, bruises, fresh stumps and tops attract more insects to trees. The insect hordes, after feeding on the damaged trees may move on to the healthy ones and cause considerable damage.

Here are some things you can do to help reduce insect damage to trees: Be careful in the woods and well by show date.

All male calves must be castrated with a knife and well by show date. No animals showing defects will be accepted.

Deaden cull trees so the valuable trees will have more moisture.

All trees are subject to insect damage, but since pines are on drier sites most of the times, they probably suffer most.

FEEDER STOCKER CALF SHOW

Some of the rules for calves to be entered in the second annual Stocker-Feeder Calf Show and Sale at the Producers Stockyards in Jackson August 30-31 are:

Calves to be eligible for the show and sale must have been produced by the consignor. Exhibits are restricted to Mississippi Producers.

All calves must be out of high grade or pure-bred beef type cows sired by good registered beef bulls. All calves of the horned breeds must be properly dehorned.

The Corps of Engineers sent advance notices soliciting bids on this job to 794 contractors and material suppliers, furnished plans and specifications on request to 23 contractors, and received 3 bids.

Bids will be opened publicly on July 18 at the Corps of Engineers district office in Mobile for the construction of a large Laboratory and Engineering Building, consisting of a three-story element and a one-story element and having a total floor area in excess of 140,000 square feet. The building will be supported on piles and will have a structural steel frame with exterior precast concrete panels. In addition to office and laboratory facilities, it will contain a central cafeteria, a food preparation area, a medical center, and space for a credit union, post office, and central security control. The structure will be centrally heated and air conditioned.

Housing NASA personnel as well as support and rocket stage contractors, the Laboratory and Engineering Building will be the headquarters for activities and the nerve center for operations at the newly established Mississippi Test Facility. It is the largest structure yet advertised for bids at the test site.

The new test center will be used by the Mississippi Test Operations of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center to test fire on the ground the rocket stages and engines to be used in the Apollo moon landing program. Barge transportation will be the principal means of moving the huge rocket components from assembly plants to the Test Facility for captive firing and then to Cape Canaveral for launching.

The Mobile District of the Corps of Engineers has land acquisition, engineering, design and construction responsibility for the entire Test Facility and is expediting all activities to insure that the Marshall Center has the needed facilities for testing and evaluating large boosters and rocket engines at the earliest possible date.

GULFPORT RALLY TO DRAW LEADING CANDIDATES

Local, district, and state candidates will speak at the Charlie Sullivan For Governor rally, Friday, June 28, at 4 p. m. at Milner Stadium in Gulfport.

Sullivan, a candidate for governor, and other candidates subject to the Democratic primary election in August, will present their platforms to Gulf Coast voters. A large crowd is expected to hear a full ticket of candidates at the open-air rally next week.

Sullivan, the son of a retired school superintendent and active Baptist minister, completed law at Tulane University and received his law degree from the University of Mississippi in 1950. After graduation, he entered private law practice in Clarksdale. In 1953 he was appointed Municipal judge for the city of Clarksdale and in 1955 was elected District Attorney for the 11th Judicial District of Mississippi.

He served in the Air Force for 3½ years during World War II as a pilot and was recalled to active duty for 21 months from 1951 to 1955. He presently holds a Reserve Commission as Captain.

The father of four children, he is married to the former Miss Mary Lester Rayner. He is a member of the Baptist Church in Clarksdale and is active in church affairs.

Arry Lefevre, West Harrison County chairman of the Sullivan For Governor campaign, said that this rally promises to be one of the largest and best attended by both voters and candidates to be planned for the Coast area. He said a schedule of time for speakers will be released later in the week.

Lefevre also said that all candidates are invited to participate and those who want to speak at the rally should notify the Sullivan For Governor headquarters, located in the Hotel Markham, by calling 663-6647.

FORESTRY ASSOCIATION FORMULATES TEN POINT PROGRAM

The Mississippi Forestry Association has formulated a ten point program which seeks to bring about the full development of the state's timberland resources and to promote forest industries.

The diverse program, announced by MFA President Jim Craig of Jackson, covers such basic phases as forestry research, fire control, education, fair and equitable taxation of timberlands, more intensive management of sixteenth section school lands, faster development of the state's 5 million idle acres and location and expansion of timber consuming industries in Mississippi.

Craig said that the program is being submitted to all candidates for governor and other state offices and to members of the state legislature for their study and consideration.

At the same time, W. W. May, Jackson, chairman of the Mississippi Forestry Association's Legislative Committee, announced that the candidates for governor have been invited to participate in a panel discussion of the proposed program at a meeting of the MFA Board of Directors at the King Edward Hotel in Jackson on July 10. The candidates are expected to outline their ideas on how forestry development can be accelerated in the state.

The Mississippi Forestry Association is composed of both individuals and companies including virtually every segment of forestry interest. Members of the MFA Board of Directors represent every section of the state.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS PROFITING FROM LARGE BEQUEST

UNIVERSITY, Miss. - University of Mississippi students are now profiting from a $1,400,000 foundation created in the will of the late Mrs. Montfort (Allie Brown) Jones of Bristol, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Jones, a native of Sallis, Miss., died on March 9, 1959, at the age of 91 years. She made bequests totaling over $270,000 to relatives, churches and charitable organizations, including the Montfort B. Jones Hospital at Kosciusko.

Her will provided that the remainder of her property and assets go into a residual estate to create the Montfort Jones and Allie Brown Jones Foundation. Value of the Foundation today is in excess of $1,400,000. Half of the income from the Foundation is shared for scholarships by students of the University of Mississippi and students for the ministry at Southern Methodist University.

The first Jones Scholarships at Ole Miss were awarded to 10 students in September of 1962.

For the second semester of the 1962-63 session, the Jones Scholars established a grade point average of 4.07 out of a possible 5. One member of the group made a perfect 5. score.

Regarding the Jones Scholars, Chancellor J. D. Williams said, "We are justly proud of the record these Scholars are making, and we are grateful to the Jones Foundation for providing the means for deserving students to attend the University.

A new innovation has been added to this column. Each week a picture of one of our local fishermen or hunter will appear in the column.

We will pick the person at random so watch each week and get acquainted with those who are good fellows at their particular sport. Hope it will be interesting to all our readers.
